Message from Chairman

I warmly invite you to attend the 32nd International Horticultural Congress (IHC2026) that will be held from August 23rd to 28th at the Kyoto International Conference Center (ICC Kyoto) in Kyoto, Japan.

Compared to other agricultural and plant science fields, horticultural science focuses on the great diversity of plants from domesticated crop and ornamental plants to wild species. Furthermore, horticulture covers a wide range of fields from biological and social sciences to medical sciences, and a wide range of professions including scientists, growers, distributors and marketers.

The theme of IHC2026 is "Exploring the Diversity of Horticulture", to appreciate the diversity of horticulture for the enrichment of human life.

Please come explore with us the integrated science of horticulture, combining social science, natural science, the best in agricultural practices, and the latest technological advances in robotics and genetics. From small household operations for local farmer's markets, to large scale globally integrated supply chains, IHC2026 will bring the latest horticultural research findings, practices and future directions to you.

Kyoto is a former capital of Japan and one of its oldest traditional cities. Before, after and even during the congress, participants will have ample opportunity to explore this ancient city. Kyoto has become a very tourist friendly city with signage in English, Chinese and Korean to assist visitors in navigating the city.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee of IHC2026 and the Japanese Society for Horticultural Science (JSHS), I am very looking forward to meeting you in Kyoto in August 2026.

IHC2026 President
Prof. Ryutaro Tao
